A Pirate in the Harbor.—Yesterday a Scotch paper named James Macfarlane was arrested before Recorder Pope on a charge of having been found drunk that he was unable to walk to the station house. The cause of the investigation of the case was the long ago in the Herald, and arose from a rivalry between the relatives of the deceased man to obtain possession of his property.

Another Mole Robbery.—On Monday night the house situated on the northeast corner of Madison and Oakland avenues was broken into by a gang of robbers while the inmates were away witnessing the display of fireworks. The thieves entered all the rooms and took a box of jewelry, a large quantity of silver plate and other valuable articles. Three Buildings Destroyed at Plainfield.—Loss $50,000. Destruction of a Woolen Factory at Rahway.—Loss $30,000.

The charming little city of Plainfield, N. J., was the scene early yesterday morning of the most destructive fire ever witnessed there, and by which property to the amount of fifty $50,000 was destroyed. About a quarter past one o'clock fire was discovered in the lower floor of the goods store of Pickett & Ramsey, located on Main street, opposite Somerset and near the corner of Cherry street. The fire department, under command of Chief Engineer France, was promptly at the scene, but before the fire had communicated to the adjoining frame companion building, and made such headway as to threaten the possibility of saving either of them. The attention of the firemen was then directed to the adjacent buildings. These were, on either side, a three story brick. The frame buildings were owned—two of them—by Mr. L. S. Dunham, clothing manufacturer, of New York City, and the third by Mr. J. W. Powell, a lawyer, of the same city. The other frame structure was owned and occupied by Mr. Verneuse, a hat and cap maker, of the same city. The upper story of the building which is covered by insurance, Dunham's buildings were occupied, the first floor by Pickett & Ramsey, whose loss is about $25,000; the second floor by Mr. Verneuse, whose loss is about $10,000; and the third floor by Mr. Dunham, whose loss is about $15,000. The fire, which was not very large, the brick building on the corner of Cherry and Main was damaged in the upper story to the extent of about $1,500. It is owned by Alfred Berry, and occupied by Berry & Thurn, stove and hardware dealers. The stone building, which was valued at $10,000, was also in the same building. One was occupied by J. W. Powell, a lawyer, and the other by J. W. Powell, a lawyer. The losses in looks, maps and papers run up to about $1,000. C. E. Dunham, a book and shoe dealer, loses about $1,000; the photographer, who has a gallery of art, is estimated to be about $35,000, and the insurance about $5,000. The fire was caused by a defective chimney, and the cause of the fire is not yet known. The fire was not positively known, though appearances strongly go to show that incendiaries have been at work.
